PLANT TREES TO BEAUTIFY TOWNS

Suggestions For Their Care In the Fall and Winter.

SELECT THE SMALL SPECIMENS

Large Ones Not Recommended, as Their Growth Is Questionable-How to Keep Them From Being Damaged-Hints on Fertilizing.

If you have only a few trees in your town and wish to make it attractive, talk trees and shrubs to your councilmen, agitate the question among the neighbors of procuring more and have them planted in the streets and wherever they will tend to improve the remedies. Deafness is caused by an community you live in. Pertinent suggestions on this line are given in the Chicago Tribune by J. H. Prost, Chicago's city forester, who says:

Now is the time for citizens and improvement associations to make preparations to do fall planting.

Several associations already have ordered trees in large numbers to be divided among their members according to their orders. This is an admirable expression of civic pride. Besides, the association can get them much more reasonable by ordering all the trees wanted by its members at once and from the same nursery.

Remember the essentials of tree olanting. Get a small tree about two or two and one-half inches in diameter one foot from the ground. The large trees are not to be recommended since their growth is questionable. Provide a good foundation for growth by making a hole somewhat larger than required by the root system, say

This manure should be spread over the ground around the mend this preparation in return for free and left lying until spring, when it may be raked together and burned or spaded into the ground.

Whenever possible all the leaves dropping from the shrubs should be left lying on the ground. They furnish a winter mulch and form a leaf mold which is as good as any fertilizer. All dead wood and unsightly branches can be removed at this time of the year without affecting the tree. Timely tree trimming is one of the great essentials in proper tree development.

The simplest rule to follow in trimming ornamental trees is this: Cut out all the dead wood, withered branches, stubs or main trunks as soon as they are seen. All living branches which are objectionable should be cut out early in the spring.

All cuts should be made with a sharp saw, well set. The cut should be made close and parallel with the parent branch from which it grew, and the cut should be left smooth or with a slightly concave surface. The wound should then be covered with a beavy coating of coal tar to aid in keeping out the moisture and rot spores.

THREE AND A HALF YEARS WITHOUT RAIN

I Kings 17:1-16-February 5 "They that seek the Lord shall not want any good thing."-Psa. 34:10.

ELIJAH the Prophet was God's mes-senger for reproving King Ahab. Jezebel his wife, and the ten tribes of Israel who supported them. As have seen, wickedness and idolatry flour-ished for a time with national prosperity Then there came a change, a drouth for three and a half years-a special dispensation of Divine providence-a retribution or punishment upon Israel. We do not wish to convey the thought that every drouth, famine, pestilence, etc., should be considered a judgment from the Almighty. The whole world is under Divine sentence or condemnation of death, and God peror condemnation of teach, and dod per-mits cyclones, earthquakes, drouth, fam-ine, pestilences, without sending them, except that in a general way they stand related to the present reign of sin and death, as of the curse not yet lifted.

But in the case of Israel matters were different. At Mt. Sinal Israel entered into Covenant relationship with God and he with them. The spe-cial terms of that Covenant were that God should deal with their nation differently than with othersthat he would treat them as his people and protect them from the evils incidental to the curse, if they would serve and obey him. Under that compact not only were they to receive bless-ings if faithful, but Elijah fed by racens. equally they were sure to receive stripes, punishments, if they were disobedient and forsook the Lord and their share of the Covenant. The three and a half years' famine described in this study was, therefore, in Israel's case, specifically a rebuke from the Lord.

This is the signification of the Lord's statement through the Prophet, "Is there evil in the city and the Lord hath not done it?" Some have mistakenly inter-preted this to mean that God holds him-self responsible for all the moral evils of markind. Quite to the contrary, the Lord declares respecting his own Governmenthat "His way is perfect." The word cell in this text is old style English, sigg may disaster or trouble or affic-With the Israelites Cod wished it to be clearly understood that he was re-sponsible, both for their blessings and for their tribulations, all of which were in-tended to purify them.

Elijah the Prophet

Under Divine guidance, Elljah, at the appropriate time, presented himself to King Ahab, clothed according to his custom, in exceedingly plain garments. In the name of the Lord he reproved the king for the idolatries practised in his kingdom and announced what the king doubtless considered a value has at name. doubtless considered a vain boast; name-ly, that there would be neither rain nor dew in the land of Israel until Elijah would command it. And the drouth came as the Prophet of the Lord predicted.

As months grew into years and the drouth continued, the king caused search to be made for Elljah, with a view to either entreating or threatening him, to the intent that the drouth might be broken. But Elijah, under the Lord's direction, secreted himself near the Brook Cherith, where the ravens brought him food morning and evening until the brook dried up and, under the Lord's direction, Elliah went elsewhere.

While this story that the ravens fed Elijah sounds mythical, it has its parallels. The raven is a wise bird. A story is told of a young man sick in prison, to whom a raven brought food. Bishop Stanwe were examining the injury, the raven, looked on also. night the dog was tied up under the manger with my horse and the raven not only visited him, but brought him bones and attended him with particular marks of cindness.

"Nor is it a wonderful case, The wonder is to be renewed; And many can say, to his praise, He sends them by ravens their food. Thus worldlings, though ravens indeed Though greedy and selfish their mind.
If God has a servant to feed,
Against their own wills can be kind."

The Widow of Zarephath Divine providence guided Elijah to the home of a poor widow, to whom the drouth and continued scarcity had proved a great trial. She had a little coarse flour left, which alone stood between herself and her son and starvation, so far as she could discern. The Prophet, meeting her, asked for a drink of water and a small cake of bread. This was a severe test to the woman's faith and generosity. She explained the situation, indicating her desire to accede to the Prophet's wishes, yet loath to part with her all. Elijah replied, Fear not. Bake for yourself and for your son, but the first cake make for me and bring to me. Then he explained to her the Lord's message: "The barrel of meal shall not waste, neither shall the cruise of oil fail until the day that the Lord sendeth rain upon the earth. word of the Lord was fulfilled. Miraculously the supplies were increased little by little, just as required for use.

There is a lesson for the Lord's people in this-a lesson that, even in our own extremities, we should exercise sympathy towards others in like condition or worse. The Lord loveth a

The Scriptures declare: "There is that scattereth and yet increaseth; and there is that withholdeth more than is proper and it tendeth to poverty." This widow scattered or divided her slender supply and thereby she increased it for many days, in harmony with this text. Our Golden Text, also, should not be forgot-ten: "They that seek the Lord shall not want any good thing"-shall not lack anything good for them. The Lord in his wisdom may not give them riches or prominence. They must trust to his wisdom, his judgment, as to what things will be for their best, their highest good.

Ground Hog Day.

To-day is Candlemas, sor ground hog day, when, according to popular superstition, the little animal comes out of his hole and if the day be clear, so that he can see his shadow, he returns to his hole to escape the six weeks of cold weather that will follow; but if the day be rainy he will stay out, as winter is ended. As the old rhyme goes:

On Candlemas day, if it be bright, Winter will have another flight; On Candlemas day if there be rain, Winter is gone and will not come again." -
